Dr. Christos Shiamptanis is an Assistant Professor at Wilfrid Laurier University. He holds a PhD in Economics from the University at Albany, State University of New York. His research interests are concentrated in both theoretical and empirical fiscal sustainability and solvency crisis. In particular, Dr. Shiamptanis is interested in the interaction between monetary and fiscal policy, the effects of fiscal policy on inflation and interest rates, the implications of fiscal policy on sovereign default, and how risky fiscal policy is in developed countries.

This event is free and open to the public. Seating is on a first-come, first-served basis.
